Honorable Wilbur M. Brucker
Secretary of the Army
Department of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Brucker:

Upon my return for a short vacation down south, I found your letter of 26 March concerning the invitation from the Commandant of the U. S. Army War College for me to address the National Strategy Seminar in June.

As I advised General Johnson, I have accepted an invitation of long standing from [redacted] to make an exotic trip on that date, and therefore it will not be possible for me to address the Seminar this year. It is regretted very much that I will be unable to attend on this particular occasion.

Your kind comments are indeed gratifying and I greatly appreciate your writing to me as you did.

With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles

Dear Mr. Brucker:

Upon my return from a short vacation down south, I found your letter of 28 March concerning the invitation from the Commandant of the U. S. Army War College for me to address the National Strategy Seminar in June.

As I told General Johnson, ~~I will be glad~~ to speak on this particular occasion and shall look forward with much pleasure to being with the group again. Your kind comments are indeed gratifying and I greatly appreciate your writing to me as you did.

With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

IN REPLY REFER TO:

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I was most pleased to learn that the Commandant of the U. S. Army War College has invited you to address the National Strategy Seminar to be held at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, during the period 10-13 June 1958.

An address by you on "The World Situation", similar to the speech you so ably presented last year, would furnish a sound foundation on which to build Seminar discussions and would be a most valuable asset to the entire occasion. As you know, the established practice of addresses by and discussions with distinguished guests substantially improves student and faculty understanding of the problems inherent in the planning of National Strategy.

I hope that you will again honor us this year with your presence.

Sincerely,
